

Regulatory Compliance Collaboration Just Got Easier with Vitature[®]

Vitature[®] is the cloud-based solution that digitizes, centralizes, and standardizes the exchange of material compliance data and documentation between dietary supplement manufacturers and raw material suppliers. Vitature helps the dietary supplement industry with a solution that supports compliance transparency, so that both manufacturers and suppliers can work more efficiently and get products to market faster.

Currently, managing the large amount of information required to prove the identity and source of your products, using spreadsheets, shared drives, and email, is overwhelming and inefficient. These antiquated tools are difficult to scale and keep up with. In addition, these tools don't provide insight into the completeness of your regulatory compliance records, making sharing and managing this information a time-consuming nightmare.

Vitature does away with these tedious manual processes. It allows manufacturers to quickly find, qualify, and collaborate with suppliers, while suppliers can manage their company profile and product catalog, as well as collaborate with manufacturers on new requirements.

How Does Vitature Benefit Suppliers?

Cloud-Based Solution

The centralized platform for fielding customer requests and managing your compliance data, documentation, and company profile is accessible from any web browser.

Standardizes Information Exchange

Template-based forms and normalized document checklists organize your compliance information. No more entering the same data into 100 different forms!

Automates Manual Processes

Uploads product data and documentation concurrently, so it's ready to leverage for customer requests. Informs customers of documentation changes before they happen.

Ensures Part 11 Compliance

A secure collaboration portal allows you to control what information is shared and maintains digital audit trails of all communication with customers.

Manages Document Expirations

Tracks your customers' expiring documents and provides quick updates.

Boosts Competitive Advantage

Includes the safety and business practices you need to be proactive with existing customers and to turn prospects into new customers

Centralizes Customer Requests

Reduces email back-and-forth with prospective customers and makes customer requests accessible in one place.

Leverages Your Company Profile

Includes a supplier database with product catalogs, when available. Update your company profile so potential customers can find you and connect directly.

Increases Product Catalog Visibility

Upload your products into a searchable database so potential (and existing) customers can find them and connect with you via the secure collaboration portal.
